HR Leave Policy - RAG Test Document

This fictional HR policy is created only for testing multi-document retrieval, citations, and RAG behavior.

1. Annual Leave

Full-time employees receive 24 days of paid annual leave per calendar year. Annual leave should normally be requested at least 7 calendar days in advance. Managers approve leave based on team capacity, business deadlines, and operational coverage. Unused annual leave may be carried forward up to a maximum of 5 days into the next calendar year. Carried-forward leave must be used before 31 March.

Full-time employees receive 24 days of paid annual leave per calendar year. Annual leave should normally be requested at least 7 calendar days in advance. Managers approve leave based on team capacity, business deadlines, and operational coverage. Unused annual leave may be carried forward up to a maximum of 5 days into the next calendar year. Carried-forward leave must be used before 31 March. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

2. Sick Leave

Employees may take up to 12 days of paid sick leave per calendar year. For absences of more than 2 consecutive working days, a medical certificate should be submitted to HR or the designated leave management system. Employees should inform their manager as early as reasonably possible on the first day of absence.

Employees may take up to 12 days of paid sick leave per calendar year. For absences of more than 2 consecutive working days, a medical certificate should be submitted to HR or the designated leave management system. Employees should inform their manager as early as reasonably possible on the first day of absence. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

3. Casual Leave

Employees are eligible for 6 days of casual leave per calendar year for short-notice personal matters. Casual leave is generally intended for one or two days at a time. It should not normally be combined with annual leave unless the manager approves the request.

Employees are eligible for 6 days of casual leave per calendar year for short-notice personal matters. Casual leave is generally intended for one or two days at a time. It should not normally be combined with annual leave unless the manager approves the request. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

4. Parental Leave

Eligible employees may apply for parental leave according to applicable company policy and local law. Employees should contact HR at least 30 days before the expected start date when the leave is foreseeable. Supporting documents may be requested as part of the approval process.

Eligible employees may apply for parental leave according to applicable company policy and local law. Employees should contact HR at least 30 days before the expected start date when the leave is foreseeable. Supporting documents may be requested as part of the approval process. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

5. Leave Approval Process

Leave requests must be submitted through the company leave portal. The request should include the leave type, start date, end date, and any relevant notes. The direct manager reviews the request first. HR may review requests that require supporting documents or policy exceptions. Employees should not assume leave is approved until the system shows an approved status.

Leave requests must be submitted through the company leave portal. The request should include the leave type, start date, end date, and any relevant notes. The direct manager reviews the request first. HR may review requests that require supporting documents or policy exceptions. Employees should not assume leave is approved until the system shows an approved status. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

6. Public Holidays

Company-recognized public holidays are separate from annual leave and do not reduce the employee's annual leave balance. If a public holiday falls during approved annual leave, that day is not deducted from the annual leave balance, subject to the applicable regional holiday calendar.

Company-recognized public holidays are separate from annual leave and do not reduce the employee's annual leave balance. If a public holiday falls during approved annual leave, that day is not deducted from the annual leave balance, subject to the applicable regional holiday calendar. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

7. Unpaid Leave

Unpaid leave may be considered when paid leave balances are exhausted or when an extended absence is required. Approval is discretionary and may depend on business needs, employee tenure, and the reason for the request. Employees should discuss unpaid leave with their manager and HR before making personal commitments.

Unpaid leave may be considered when paid leave balances are exhausted or when an extended absence is required. Approval is discretionary and may depend on business needs, employee tenure, and the reason for the request. Employees should discuss unpaid leave with their manager and HR before making personal commitments. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

8. Emergency Leave

Emergency leave may be granted for urgent family or personal situations. Employees should notify their manager as soon as possible. Documentation may be requested depending on the nature and duration of the absence.

Emergency leave may be granted for urgent family or personal situations. Employees should notify their manager as soon as possible. Documentation may be requested depending on the nature and duration of the absence. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

9. Leave Balance and Records

Employees are responsible for checking their leave balance in the leave portal before submitting a request. HR maintains the official leave record. If an employee notices an incorrect leave balance, the employee should raise a ticket with HR and provide the relevant leave request details.

Employees are responsible for checking their leave balance in the leave portal before submitting a request. HR maintains the official leave record. If an employee notices an incorrect leave balance, the employee should raise a ticket with HR and provide the relevant leave request details. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.

10. Policy Exceptions

Any exception to this leave policy requires written approval from HR and the employee's department manager. Verbal approval alone is not sufficient for policy exceptions. The company may revise this policy when business requirements or legal requirements change.

Any exception to this leave policy requires written approval from HR and the employee's department manager. Verbal approval alone is not sufficient for policy exceptions. The company may revise this policy when business requirements or legal requirements change. This paragraph is intentionally repeated to create enough text for chunking and semantic retrieval tests.